PERSONAL PROJECTS

Calculator project   Aug'20
To create my calculator project I made three files.To create the body or structure of my project I use the first HTML5 file and In addition, I produced a CSS file that specified the color of the project's body button, background and other elements.Lastly,I produced a JS file that utilizes getelement and connects it to an id in a foreach loop for each button click, AddeventListener was employed se the calculator's built-in function to calculate,remove all digits and clear all data.

Animated Website project   Aug'28
This dynamic website utilizes HTML5,CSS and JavaScript to teach fundamental web development, starting from creating the structure using HTML,enhancing visuals with CSS and implementing interactive animations using various JavaScript libraries and frameworks.Developed with guidance from Sheryians Coding School.

DigitalClock project   Aug'22
HTML5,CSS and JS files are part of this project. The CSS file uses linear gradient colors on the background.At the end of JS file,let variable use hours,minutes,seconds and milliseconds so that the time is displayed in the DOM(Document Object Model)and InnerHtml is used to show const variables like time and time format.
