Project : Michelsohn & Daughter Construction Website
Role Played : Software Developer
Technologies Used : HTML, CSS, Javascript, Bootstrap, React js
Description : In this project we have built a professional website where we give full detailed information about our client Karen Michelsohn's Business. The purpose of this project is to promote our client's business on the Internet. I built this website using HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, and React JS technologies. It is a fully responsive website. I have built the Home, About, and Services section in this project using the above technologies. This website is suitable for all types of devices. I have built this website with our team with our all efforts to promote our client's business on the Internet.

Project : Wine Delivery Website
Role Played : Software Developer
Technologies Used : HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, React js, and Axios (for backend integration)
Description : In foreign countries most people drink wine and champagne. They also used to gift their relatives wines and champagne on special occasions like weddings, retirement, and anniversaries. so the purpose of our project is to build a dynamic website where customers can find different types of wines and champagne, add them to the cart, and purchase them. It is an e-commerce website where people buy premium types of wines and alcohol. We built this website for Sparkling Direct company. I have built a login page, signup page, home page, products list section, and a product detail page, etc in this project. I have used HTML, CSS, Bootstrap, React js to build these components and used axios tool to integrate api to our website.
